HPDE/Track Day Rules

1. HPDE/Track Day Description

An HPDE/Track Day is designed to learn performance driving techniques in a controlled environment or to shake down a race car. The day is not racing. No lap times are taken. The event is open to street and race cars: a competition license is required in the competition group. Drivers of all skills and abilities are welcome. Limited instruction may be available. Typically four groups comprised of Beginner, Intermediate, Advanced and Competition drivers rotate through on-track sessions of approximately 20 minutes each. Note: A more formal course of instruction with assigned instructors and feedback from experienced observers is available in the Midwestern Council Driver Schools.
